Mr. Oliver Returns

British Opinion Favors Canada as a Field for Immigration

(Bulletin Special)
Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Hon. Frank Oliver arrived here today. To your correspondent he stated that sentiment in Britain today is entirely in favor of Canada in preference to any other colony as against foreign countries, but Canada in preference to any other colony as a field for intended emigration. The outlook was therefore favorable to a large immigration from the British Isles. Feeling is also directed toward Canada as an investment field and is favorable to building up trade between the two. In reply to a question Mr. Oliver stated that it was not the intention to relax the endeavor to fill up the vacant lands of the Dominion, from the Motherland. On the other hand the efforts will be increased. He was pleased to see how well the English people were acquainted with Canada. An increase is also expected from France, Belgium and Holland, where population is becoming congested. Other European countries have strong immigration restrictions but these are not expected to be prohibitive.

Farmer Disappears

Was a Homesteader Near Kamsack Saskatchewan, and Went to Dakota Where He Disappeared

(Bulletin Special).
Fargo, N.D., Sept. 24.—As a result of long and exhaustive enquiries it is now believed that John Lund, for years a farmer in the neighborhood of Abercrombie, N.D., has been foully murdered. Lund left here two years ago and went to Kamsack, Saskatchewan, where he secured a valuable homestead. He returned here the same fall to make some payments on a threshing machine, having nearly one thousand dollars in his pocket. He paid out considerable but still had five hundred left when he suddenly disappeared and has not been heard from since. It is fully believed here that the thread of the mystery can only have its solution in the finding of the body of the missing man.

Missionary Work

The Theme of Rev. John Griffith. Dr. Bryce Preached Last Evening

The pulpit of First Presbyterian church was occupied yesterday morning by Rev. Dr. Griffith, returned missionary from China. Dr. Griffith's address dealt with the results that indirectly arise from missionary enterprise as seen in China where he has labored for a number of years.

The burden of the missionary's remarks applied to those who make no confession of the truths of the Gospel and showed how their lives are affected. "These are incidental results of missionary work that are not to be deplored," said the speaker.

The first result in a new mental awakening. Chinese society is constituted in different lines to western society where people travel and mingle with new communities. In China it is not customary to travel and successive generations live and die without going beyond the bounds of their ancestral village. To the average Chinese the golden days are in the past which inspires the tenacious conservatism Chinese people.

Another result is the more healthy religion that is given to even the heathen mind. The contrast of religious thought is unconsciously given a Christian tone. It is a mystery to the Chinaman why the missionary will come so far from his home and endure privation without being compelled. The height and depth of such love he cannot understand, but it changes the actual content of his mind and is one of the untold results of mission work. A third result is emancipation from blighting superstitions. Peoples of Christian lands regard heathen superstitions as merely grotesque. They are really terrible. Chinese superstition has prevented the development of the material resources of the nation for centuries. China has unlimited coal and iron. It is estimated there are 400,000 square miles of coal lands, yet it is the opinion of the people that to develop these would destroy the balance of the elements.

A fourth result is the awakening of a national consciousness. Millions of Chinese are beginning to become interested in the social and political questions of their national polity that have become necessary with the west. When day that has dawned upon them. The last result mentioned by Dr. Griffith is the birth of a new international spirit that is to lead China into the sisterhood of nations. It is a momentous idea that China will bring when she is admitted to this sisterhood. Sir Robert Hart who was director of the customs service in China for half a century has said that the safety of the world depends upon the partition of China or her rapid evangelization.

Dr. Griffith referred to the change that is coming over the military service of China. In 1904 he said that few soldiers could have marched through China. This year in the province of Honan alone a great military review will be held where over 100,000 well trained soldiers will be present.

DR. BRYCE
Prof. Bryce of Manitoba College preached last evening. He based his sermon on the text "Buy the truth and sell it not."

Prof. Bryce referred to the earnest quest of the alchemists of the middle ages for the philosophers' stone, the elixir of life, and the universal solvent. He referred then to the eternal quest of man after truth. The old alchemists never found what they sought, but the earnest seeker after truth was always rewarded by God, for truth is what proceeds from God.

Prof. Bryce pointed out four methods by which truth is revealed to man. First, by the wonders of nature which man sees in the earthquake, the regeneration of the earth every spring and summer. The old statement of the psalmist is still true that the firmament declares the glory of God. Second, truth is revealed by the conscience that tells the right, and often are first views on moral questions are the most truthful.

In the third place the Bible is a mass of truth—the truth of all the ages. But it is only the pure in heart that apprehend this truth. Finally the highest truth is what is revealed in the teachings and personality of Jesus Christ. Christ knew when he said "I am the truth, the way and the life."

Buying involves exchange. What does the Christian require to exchange in the purchase of truth? Interest. False riches, inordinate pleasures, and unworldly ambitions. "A man with nerve enough," said the speaker, "can get rich, but sometimes at a terrible cost." Prof. Bryce closed his sermon with an earnest appeal to keep the truth by respecting the Day of God, His House, and His Holy Word.

Foster Finance

Borrowed a Fortune on Small Security to Speculate in Western Lands

(Bulletin Special)
Toronto, Sept. 22.—One particular bit of speculation on the part of Hon. Geo. E. Foster, M.P., Hon. Dr. Montague ex-M.P., John A. MacGillivray and Dr. Orontyatekha, with $165,000 of the I. O. F. funds, was examined by Mr. Shepley before the insurance commission yesterday. They formed a syndicate to buy 44,000 acres of Manitoba wheat land, and borrowed the money from the Forsters, Montague giving mortgages in his own name for $13,000 as security. Up to January 1, 1906, the interest only had been paid, and the I. O. F. was simply carrying the loan along, waiting for a boost in land prices to sell at a profit.

This action was the result of a meeting of miners held Friday, at which it was decided not to work any longer with non-union men. Mr. Lindsay, general manager of the coal company, posted a notice to the men dealing with the situation in which he stated that if the men did not appear for work on Monday morning they would not be taken back into the employ of the company. Good Advice

Alderman Gibson, of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, of Winnipeg, Gives Edmonton Some Valuable Pointers

Alderman Gibson of Winnipeg, chairman of the fire, water and light committee of the council of that city, and agent for the Babcock & Wilcox boilers, is in the city today on a visit of business and pleasure. He is seeing to the installation of the new boiler which is being put in down at the power plant, and incidentally, is posting himself on the conditions of the town.

Alderman Gibson is probably as well posted as any man in Western Canada on the science of fire fighting and on public water and light works generally and he gave his impressions of the situation here this morning in a concise way when he said that Edmonton had been well advised as far as it had gone. More fire-fighting apparatus, he said, is needed in this city, a new and larger engine, more steam hydrants, another fire hall and some few other things of minor importance. Not one collar, he says, has been wasted. Everything that the city has is good, but to meet the rapidly growing wants, this must be supplemented. In three years that he has been chief of the committee in Winnipeg, they have enlarged the numerical and mechanical strength of the fire fighters and apparatus three-fold, and the city is now putting in a high pressure system on which they will use a two and one-half inch nozzle with 300 pound pressure, a force which will batter a hole through an 18 inch brick wall almost as fast as a hotchkiss gun. Speaking of the power proposition, he said that using producer gas for fuel, at the present price of coal, the city should be able to supply electrical energy at $12 per horse power per year. With a possibility of 75c coal, which the city may be able to avail itself of by raising its own fuel from its own shaft at the power house, the price could be materially reduced, possibly to $10 per horse power, probably the lowest price in Canada.

Speaking of the water question, Alderman Gibson said that the Saskatchewan water was as good as any in the world with filtration to collect the sediment, it would be as blue and clear as sea water. He advised that the intake be higher up.

Trouble in Morocco

Chiefs Growing Bolder in Opposing Sultan's Rule

(Bulletin Special)
Tangier, Sept. 24.—The situation in Morocco is becoming daily more menacing. European property at Taflet, Rof, Mogador, Casablanca and even Tangier are threatened. Natives are organizing and equipping as if for a holy war and the Sultan's authority is non-existent. The Sheikhs in the Marakesh region have demanded complete autonomy. Up to the present time the Sultan has succeeded in preventing the big feudal chiefs from uniting but their power is growing daily. They intercept taxes, raise levies and expel officials sent by the Sultan. Sherief Elkstanni of Fez, one of the bitterest of anti-Europeans is going to Marakesh on a mission to preach to the tribesmen against the European population. Raisuli has nearly recovered from his recent illness.

This was done by asking the little girls to send in a written description telling how they would dress a doll, whether a blonde or a brunette. About 40 letters were sent in to the judges. Mr. Watson and Miss Staath. The result of the judging was handed out on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The judges say they had a difficult task but finally awarded first prize to Ruth Caruthers, aged 9, which was a beautiful doll, valued at $8.50. The second award fell to Ete Manuel, aged 9, who received a doll worth $6. Myrtle Buck, aged 8, got the third prize, which was a doll valued at $5. Dorothy Macdonald and Katherine Cormick were regarded to have sent in such excellent suggestions that a special prize was given to each, although it was the intention of Revillon Bros. originally to give only three prizes.

Athabasca runs through asphalt. There are actual mountains a few miles from Grand Rapids, one hundred and sixty-three miles below the landing, to Fort MacKay, thirty-five miles below Fort McMurray, there is asphalt of the pitch, and in places black rivulets of it can be seen snaking down the mountain sides. There are indications of petroleum fourteen miles below Fort McMurray and boring is being done at Fort McKay. There are coal deposits which are being utilized locally. Mr. McBeth says the gas well at Pelican Rapids which has been burning for eight years. The noise of it can be heard half a mile away. Through an eight inch pipe the gas shoots up in a flame of 15 or 20 feet, and water comes boiling up with it. There is a gas spring below Grand Rapids, where a kettle can be boiled easily, and Mr. McBeth found several other indications of gas. At Salt river, seventeen miles from Fort Smith, salt is being mined and sold for ten cents a pound. There are quite a number of settlers going into the Peace River country. Mr. Jas. Piet, who was this country's enumerator in the last census of the city, has also returned.

E. C. ROBERTS DEAD.

Word was received in the city last night of the death of E. C. Roberts, which occurred at Revillon Bros. post at Lesser Slave Lake. The only intimation was a despatch originating at the post and brought by a runner to Athabasca Landing, from which point it was wired in. Details are very meagre, practically nothing being known except that Mr. Roberts died of pleurisy on Wednesday last, the 19th of September. Theodore Revillon intends to leave for Lesser Slave Lake some time this week. Mr. E. C. Roberts was very well known in Northern Alberta. He was for some time a member of the firm of Connell, Bredin and Roberts, fur traders, who operated extensively in the north and who sold out last spring to Revillon Bros., at which time Mr. Roberts took charge of that company's business at Lesser Slave Lake. It has been known for some time that Mr. Roberts' system was breaking down, and that his health was precarious.

W.O.W. MEETING IN RED DEER.

Woodcraft is coming to the front in Red Deer, as a result of a visit from Sovereign Jas. R. Rampliss, chief organizer and member of the number of managers of the head camp of the Canadian Order of the W.O.W. After a week's work a meeting was called for Sept. 21st, in Masonic hall, and seventeen stalwart members were added to the local camp. The evening's proceeding opened with a very spirited address by Sovereign Rampliss, who gave a graphic sketch of the remarkable growth of woodcraft. He is not old in point of years but he is the oldest Woodman in Canada today. He was instrumental in planting the order of Canadian soil and during his term of office has initiated over 15,000 members. Sovereign Rampliss produced figures showing the phenomenal growth of the order. He said that the total membership of Canada and the United States had reached one million and a quarter. After a speech by Sovereign Crawford who made many good points in favor of woodcraft the camp was formally opened and initiation ceremonies were conducted by Sovereign Rampliss in a most pleasing manner.

Makes Long Trip Through the Mountains Looking for Timber for Alberta Market

James Finglin, of Port Arthur, Ont., one of the heaviest sawmill operators in Ontario, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from a trip through the mountains. With only one man accompanying him, he made the journey from Ashcroft, up the North Thompson, over the divide to the Fraser, up to the headwaters of that river, across the Rockies at Yellowhead Pass and down the Saskatchewan to Edmonton. Mr. Finglin said that he found no timber on this side of the divide that the mills already established here could not handle, although there is room for a mill at Athabasca Landing to handle timber cut along that river when the railroad is extended to the Landing. He says there is plenty of timber on the North Thompson, but, lacking railway connection it is at present inaccessible, so far as Alberta is concerned. Mr. Finglin is spending a day looking over the city and will probably go east this afternoon. He did not make any locations on his trip.

An Alberta Biscuit Factory

Calgary Herald.—One of the most important manufacturing industries of Calgary promises to be that of the Alberta Biscuit company. A Herald representative through the courtesy of E. C. Perry, one of the principal stockholders, had an opportunity yesterday of going through the building and learning some facts which will be of interest to our readers.

The building is situated on Fourth street east, immediately west of the wholesale section and adjoining the big thousand barrel flour mill which is being erected by the Calgary Milling Company. The imposing brick structure is a striking example of expeditious building. The contract called for its completion in sixty days, and with the exception of a few details which were delayed by the owners, the contractor, Mr. Woodward, finished his job on schedule time. The building is one of the most substantial in the city, the foundations and principal walls being designed to support a six or seven storey structure. The cost of the building and building will be about $55,000. In addition to this, another $25,000 or $30,000 is required for the stock, such as flour, sugar, raisins, extracts, essential oils, etc.

One of the most impressive features of the plant is the size of the ovens. There are two of them which cost $10,000, and they are the largest case of ovens on the continent. Their baking capacity is 100 barrels of flour in eight hours.

The company will employ in the neighborhood of 100 hands and it is expected that the number will be increased in the very near future to 150 or 200. The manager is E. B. Johnson. Mr. Perry who will be the sales manager was previously associated with him in the biscuit manufacturing business in Minneapolis. Messrs. Perry and Johnson sold out their stock in Minneapolis and after a careful investigation selected Calgary as the most suitable location for a similar industry in Alberta. A number of local capitalists are associated with them to a moderate extent.

ALL LOST BUT THE DOG.

Duck shooting has its dangers even when the ducks are not vicious. On Friday an Edmonton bunch went out to Ranfurly to hunt ducks. It is reported that all their ammunition was contained in the cartridges, but after going seven or eight miles into the high grass region to the north of the C. N. R., they all got lost and then got separated. There were three men in the bunch. Jack Armstrong, the best gun-bait traveller in the bunch, travelled over several leagues of high grass back to Lavoie. Herb Gardner, after travelling devious ways, wound up in Innisfree, and "Doc" Hall struck the rails again about two miles from Ranfurly. They all fell back by the hand car route on Ranfurly and reached Edmonton last night. It is reported that they were 48 hours in the empty wilderness with very little to eat and nothing to drink. The dog got home all right.

VEGREVILLE.

Vegreville, Sept. 22.—A western cowboy on a trip to the East, asked his opinion of the country, said he "knew" he will see more cows and less butter, more rivers and less water, see farther and see less than in any other country. This quotation may fit some parts of the west but it certainly cannot be applied to that wonderfully rich and fine farming country of which Vegreville is becoming the metropolis. Vegreville is the best example yet seen of what the West can do if it be given railway communication. On the second day of November in the year of 1905, the first building was started and since that day there has been a continual procession there has been a dozen of business blocks, two fine hotels and residences by the score, with a population close to the thousand mark.

"But," say the Vegrevillians, "we're only commencing to walk. Just watch here at their back there is no reason why they should not be ten or even twenty thousand strong in a few years. Already there are schemes afoot and plans being projected for improvements, including electric lights, water system, etc. The Vegreville Electric Co. managed by S. C. Parker is doing wiring and work preparatory to the installation of an electric system. Of course, nothing can be done until the new council gets down to business and the question of municipal or private operation of all improvements is decided. A glance at the map and an idea of the extent of the country, of the richness of the soil, of the culture of the people who till the soil, should set aside all doubts as to the future prosperity and soundness of Vegreville. To the south are the communities of Martins, Beaver Lake, Viking and Gilpin, to the north are Whitford, Soda Lake, Andrew, Shandro, Paradis, Crossburg, Lacombe, Pellyville, Wainwright, Saddle Lake and Hilda Lake. Vegreville will be the commercial centre of all, as well as being the most convenient postal centre.

J. B. Holden, member of the provincial legislature is not asleep and the government is building graded roads away to the north making for Lac La Biche and to the northeast towards Brossaerville, in both cases passing through very fine farming districts and this good wagon communication will tend to hold the trade for Vegreville.

The town is plentifully supplied with water. Wm. Pierce of Edmonton has a well boring outfit here and without exception all the wells are producing good flows of fine, clear water. Many of them are overflows and constant pumping has no appreciable effect on the supply.

PACIFIC AND PRACTISING

When an American railroad man wants to build a system in Canada every C.P.R. organ in Parliament and out calls upon the patriotism of Canadians to repel the invader and stand by the "national highway," but when an opportunity occurs to tap a dividend paying section of American territory patriotism does not deter this national highway from seizing the opportunity, even to the neglect of the needs of the country which brought it into being, bonused it into existence, into opulence.

Regarding the proposed extension of the C.P.R. system to Seattle, Washington the "Times" of that city says: "If the C. P. R. ever does come to Seattle, its entry will be the more expensive the longer it is put off. It is in the reason of things to believe that the C. P. R. does contemplate entrance to Seattle, and that supposition, coupled with the fact that an English syndicate has purchased property to the value of $250,000 on the shores of Lake Union within three weeks, leads to the positive belief that the C. P. R. is coming and is coming at once."

The Canadian people have no objection to Canadian roads invading the territory beyond the boundary when railway extension is not particularly needed on this side of the line but they have very strong feelings against the C.P.R.'s policy in past years of absolutely neglecting Canada's need of more roads while they built lines in the United States. That this disregard has disappeared of late is due to no awakened patriotism on the part of the company but to the change in conditions which makes it a case of build roads or lose the business. That under such circumstances the C.P.R. should prate of loyalty to Canadian enterprises is more amusing than effective.

WHERE IT COMES FROM

While the medical men of Edmonton are deciding the particular brand and the origin of the prevalent fever the following from the Stettin Independent may help some:

"Typhoid fever" is a general infection caused by bacillus typhosus. It is everywhere an index of the sanitary intelligence of the community. In the case of the bacillus may live as long as eighteen weeks. In milk they undergo rapid development and may live in the upper layers of the soil for eleven months. The direct infection by dust of exposed food stuffs such as milk, is very probable. The bacillus retain their vitality for many weeks in garden earth twenty-one days, in dust of the street thirty days, on linen sixty to seventy days, and on wood thirty-two days.

Infection of water is unquestionably the most common mode of conveyance. Flies play an important part in the spread of the disease. Filth, bad sewers, or cess pools cannot in themselves cause the disease, but they furnish the conditions suitable for the preservation of the bacillus and possibly for its propagation.

"Typhoid fever is extraordinarily variable in its manifestations; errors in diagnosis are inevitable even under the most favorable conditions. Let the 'cook-sauce' physician, who never makes mistakes read the report of U. S. Army Commission on Typhoid Fever during the Spanish-American war.

"Agents which destroy typhoid bacillus are: Direct sunlight; heat 60 degrees C. or 128 degrees F.; carbolic acid, 1-2 per cent will kill cultures. Other substances which may be used are formaline, corrosive sublimate 1-2000 solution, and many others which are not so convenient for use in the household. As a disinfectant a carbolic solution of 1 per cent is excellent for dishes, pails, etc.

TO ABOLISH THE DUST NUISANCE

The "dust nuisance" is by no means the least of the annoyances of both the housewife and the business man in the city and how to abate the nuisance is one of the annual problems of the city government. Eventually it is permanently removed more or less by paving the streets and having them swept and sprinkled daily. Owing to the expense of paving and of maintaining street cleaning gangs however this can be done usually only when a city has reached a comparatively advanced stage and then only on the main business streets and the avenues in the most densely populated districts. The residents of the small city and even those residing in the less populous sections of large cities are dependent on the watering cart to allay the annoyance, which under their circumstances it is generally considered impossible to remove. A plan is being adopted in parts of Europe, however, for dressing the surface of roads in towns and even in the country, which might be found practicable in the young cities of western Canada and which it is claimed effectually removes the dust nuisance. The plan has the other advantage, where the tar can be procured at reasonable price, that the treatment, by preserving the roadway effects an actual saving in the cost of repairs. The Paris correspondent of the Scientific American describes this work in France as follows:—

"On the continent the oiling or tarring of roads is making considerable progress. The methods which seem to be the most successful can be divided into two general classes. In the first case we find products such as Westrumite, Pulvanto, and the like in which the liquid tar obtained from mineral or vegetable oils is formed into an emulsion or a solution in water and thus sprinkled upon the road. The solution in water can be obtained by adding alkali such as ammonia, or by the use of casein or other products. The liquid which is thus obtained can be applied to the road from an ordinary sprinkling cart. Another way of applying it is to pipe the water from the mains through a base and use a special form of nozzle into which the oil or tar is fed from a reservoir. For use in cities this is quite practical.

"Much more efficient than the method of sprinkling is the application of a layer of hot tar compound upon the road, which has just been thoroughly swept so as to leave the surface quite clean. In this way the road absorbs the hot tar and this forms a very solid coating, as the tar sinks for a considerable depth below the surface. According to the report which was made recently by Chief Engineer Heude, the hot tarring method is to be considered one of the best to be used upon roads on a large scale. In 1905 he treated some 150,000 square yards of roadway in France and finds that the results are excellent and quite justify the expense which is occasioned. The dust which usually results from the wear of the road has disappeared, and at the same time the annual expense of keeping up the road diminished so as to more than compensate for the cost of the process. This comes from the great reduction of expenses for watering the road, sweeping and mud-scraping as well as from the greater duration of the road bed, so that not only does the tarring process cost nothing, but it gives an annual economy of $0.01 per square yard yearly. One coating of tar lasts about a year.

"To carry out this method practically, the treatment should be made during warm and dry weather and at certain hours of the day. To avoid an unexpected rainfall it is necessary that the operation should be done quickly. With the primitive apparatus which was used at first, requiring a great deal of hand labor, it was hardly possible with gangs of a dozen men to tar more than 1,000 square yards of road per day, applying the tar by means of hand brushes. This led to the use of an automatic system which could be used for applying on a large scale and in a continuous manner, so that it is now possible to treat more than 2,000 square yards per hour.

TALLEST BUILDING IN THE WORLD

Scientific American: When the tall office building, in the course of its rapid evolution, had reached a height of 500 feet, it was freely predicted that the limit had been reached, and that future structures in New York city would be of more reasonable vertical dimensions. That prediction was made not much more than a decade ago; and yet today there is in course of construction in Lower New York a building whose summit will reach heavenward for over twice three hundred feet. The new building, which will be in the form of a tower and will constitute a part of an extension of the present Singer building at the corner of Liberty street and Broadway, will contain forty-one stories and the top of its cupola will be 612 feet above the street level. Not only will the Singer tower be the tallest inhabited building in the world, but it will exceed in vertical height the famous Washington monument of the banks of the Potomac, which, with its total height of 555 feet is at present the tallest masonry structure erected by man. Although the Singer tower will lack some 300 feet of equalling the famous Eiffel Tower, it will be a far more difficult and costly structure to erect; and because of its narrow base will involve more complicated and serious engineering problems.

The new building will form the most important part of an extensive reconstruction of the old Singer building at the corner of Liberty street and Broadway. Great credit is due to Mr. Ernest Flagg for his successful treatment of this unusual architectural problem, and to his engineers for the solution of the constructional difficulties involved in the design of so narrow and lofty a building. An addition to the old structure with a frontage of 76 feet on Broadway, is to be built on the northern side of the building, and the western portion of this addition will constitute the great tower. The original building and the addition will be four-story stories in height, and the tower will extend twenty-seven stories above this.

It was of course impossible to run continual diagonal truss members clear across the building from wall to wall, because such an arrangement would have interfered with the windows. It was determined, therefore, to consider the structure as being built up of four square corner towers and a central tower consisting of the elevator wall, with wind bracing running through each wall at each tower continuously from base to summit, the five towers being tied together in lateral planes at the various floors. The corner towers are 12 feet square in plan, centre to centre of the columns. This provides an open space, 36 feet in width, down the centre of each face of the building, which is entirely free from diagonal bracing. These spaces are occupied by large bays filled with glass as shown in the perspective drawing. The lighting of the corner towers is by single windows, which are so disposed as to permit the diagonal wind bracing to be carried continuously throughout the whole height of the tower, without interfering with the lights.

Of course this method of bracing results in very high stresses in the chords of the trusses, which in this case are the vertical columns of the tower, and these columns are of exceedingly heavy construction. The wind pressure was assumed at 30 pounds per square foot, uniformly distributed over the whole face of the building, and the total overturning moment of the wind reaches the enormous amount of 128,000 foot tons. The total weight of the tower alone is about 23,000 tons, and yet so great is the wind pressure that on the windward side of a building should a storm ever blow upon it with sufficient velocity to produce an average pressure of 30 pounds per square foot, the building would tend to lift, the total uplift on a single column amounting to 470 tons. In order to provide against this the columns are anchored to the caissons, the margin of safety against lifting amounting to never less than 50 tons on the column. The figures for the loading on a single one of the columns will be of interest. The total dead load at the foot of the column in question will be 289.2 tons, this amount representing the weight of the steelwork and masonry. To this must be added 69 per cent of the maximum live load under which is included furniture, fittings and the maximum crowd of occupants. This reaches, at the foot of the column in question a total of 131.6 tons, making a total dead and live load of 420.8 tons. The downward pressure on the leeward side of the building, due to the wind pressure, is 758.3 tons, which added to 420.8 tons, gives a total load on the column of 1,179.6 tons. The greatest combined load on a single column is 1,585 tons. The effect of this stupendous structure upon the already remarkable skyline of New York city will be to dwarf the immensity of surrounding buildings and deceive the eye as to their already lofty altitude. This will be particularly true of the stranger who visits New York for the first time, for he will find it difficult to realize that the towering skyscrapers which are dominated so completely by this tower are many of them between three and four hundred feet in height. The question of the future vertical increase in the dimensions of buildings will depend upon the financial success of the Singer building. Should it prove possible to realize the adequate return upon an investment of this kind, it is not unlikely that corporations with whom the advertisement that is given by a spectacular structure of this kind counts for something will in future years attempt to rival or surpass it. It is the confident expectation of the engineers that in spite of the great height there will be no perceptible sway in the Singer building, even in the heaviest storm.

Although in plan the tower will measure only 65 feet square, its total uplift is so great that its floor space added to that of the main building will be greater with a single exception, than that of any other building in New York city, the total area amounting to 9 1/2 acres. The elevator well will be oblong in plan and placed in the centre of the building. For the service of the lower portion of the building there will be sixteen elevators, and as the upper floors are reached they will decrease in numbers until there will remain four elevators for the service of the topmost floor. It is expected that when the building is fully occupied, it will accommodate 6,000 people.

From a constructional point of view, the most interesting feature of this extraordinary structure is the scheme adopted in framing the steel skeleton, so that it will resist the enormous accumulated wind pressure when the thunder squalls of summer and the heavy gales of winter sweep over Manhattan. Decidedly interesting also is the method of treatment which has given this tower an architectural character usually absent from our modern "sky-scraper." The plan adopted, both in designing the steel skeleton, and in the treatment of its exterior, has harmonized both the engineering and architectural requirements of the case. It was realized that in order to obtain sufficient strength to resist the enormous transverse bending stresses due to wind pressure it would be necessary to introduce diagonal wind bracing and give the tower a true truss form from foundation to top storey.

Forestry Convention

Begins in Vancouver To-morrow—Earl Grey Will be Present

The Canadian Forestry convention meets in Vancouver tomorrow and at the same time the members of the Canadian Manufacturers Association will be present to about the number of 500. Lord Grey, governor-general of Canada, will open the convention. Invitations have been sent to all the governors in western Canada and replies have been received that the governments of the provinces will be represented. The senators from British Columbia and the members of Parliament will also be present, among whom will be Hon. William Templeman, of Victoria, Hon. James Dunsmuir, is taking a very active interest, as are the members of the local government. This is in view of the fact that among the matters to be considered, the preservation of forest and re-forestation, are subjects of vital importance to British Columbia. The governors of Washington, Oregon and Idaho will be present, and also the leading members of the United States forestry departments.

Among those who have signified their intention of taking part in the proceedings are Gifford Pincho, chief of the forest service in the United States; Professor John Gifford, of Princeton university, one of the leading authorities on forestry in America; and A. Knechtel of the forest, fish and game commission, of Albany, New York.

Representatives of the newly formed forestry department in the state of Washington will be in attendance, and it is probable that Dr. Judson Clark, forester of the province of Ontario, who is on the program for a paper, will also be on hand.

The convention is being held at Vancouver because of the invitation to the association extended by the Mount and Coast Lumber and Shingle associations, and these organizations will entertain the delegates during their stay here. The city council will have a public reception to Earl Grey, and the board of trade will look after the representatives of the Canadian Manufacturers' association. The event promises to be one of the most important which ever took place in Vancouver, and the preparations for its success are on an elaborate scale.

"The perfection of the physique type of measuring and designing for tailoring," said the Manager of the Semi-Ready Wardrobe, "was one of the most brilliant sartorial achievements in many years. Until this idea of the Semi-Ready Company, was perfected, we merchant tailors had it all our own way. Today most of us acknowledge the truth that the small tailor shops cannot equal the system or the workmanship of the real Semi-Ready garment. I know that in nearly every town and city in Canada, merchant tailors are trying to get the Semi-Ready agency."

THE WORLD OF FASHION

(Written for the Bulletin).

There has scarcely been a season when so much uncertainty has surrounded the situation at the opening of this fall in the matter of fashions.
Business conditions are excellent, which seems to have made Dame Fashion over fastidious and fickle.

The mysterious goddess of fashion is as silent as some offended oracle as to the cut of garment for the coming season, and refrains from putting forward any style idea that will enable her votaries to predict any radical change. The majority of those who have visited the fashion centres have come away with their selections but partly made.

The situation is complicated by a struggle between two tendencies, the one towards the garments made in one piece as exemplified in the Princess and the Empire, and the other towards the reinstatement of the skirt and bodice garment as illustrated in the tailor styles of two pieces.

The former may be described as the more dressy and feminine costume, while the latter is more mannish in cut and material.

While the situation in garment make-up is uncertain, in all other lines of dry goods the situation is well defined. There is no question as to the fabrics that are in chief demand, these being chiefly broadcloths, fancy suitings in neat checks and stripes, velvets and velveteens. Checks and stripes are in high style. In silks the satin surfaces are taking the lead.

As to colors, weights and weaves of materials, the future is equally decided. The same is true of laces, embroideries and trimmings. Nor is there difficulty in gauging the demand for millinery materials.

The struggle in costumes is between the picturesque and the practical, the one extremely feminine, typical in the lingerie which was in the lead last year; the other after a masculine model borrowed from ideas originally expressed in men's attire. In many cases here is a tendency to merge into one model, showing the masculine model in a feminine manner. This reviving and incorporating the early period of fashion's history when there were times and seasons the dress of the court dandies became so feminine as to include extravagant and dainty fripperies of woman's attire.

The origin of this year's fashions can be ascribed to no particular period. They show no radical departure, the changes being merely in detail than in basic ideas. To exemplify this the Princess which was so prominent last season is rarely plain, the bodice being elaborate, assuming the form of a jacket caught in above the waist line, after the style of the Empire.

The skirts fit smoothly, are fuller with flattened plaits often appearing.

Because of the two tendencies, the masculine and feminine, the fabrics fall into two classes, namely, those that tailor, and those that drape, the latter representing the feminine.

DARK TONES PREVAIL.

Paris insists on dark tones, a radical departure from last year's many light shades of last year. The use of light tones will be confined mostly to evening wear. Street tones are decidedly darker and will be a leading feature in fabrics and trimmings during the winter. Paris designers favor black for dressy purposes, while New York designers have shown a marked tendency for dark in street wear, including suits and wraps.

The French and American authorities are divergent upon the tailored suits. The tailored models of French origin are more dressy and picturesque and the tailored effect is seen more in treatment, than in the severe cut that typifies the American garment. French women are so extremely feminine that they refuse to accept the broadly simple lines that often please the American woman.

TRIMMING FORMS.

The dainty handwork of last year's French garments has given place to machine-made effects. Tailored stitching and strappings, and flatly pressed plaits have displaced hand tuckings and shirrings. Hand embroideries are replaced byraid, cord ornaments, and buttons. All the heavier forms or applied trimmings are toning in strong, with black silk laces, for evening costumes. Fur bands are freely used on cloth suits, on the more dressy costume of light wools and silks, and on chiffons and laces that go to make up evening and ball costumes. The fashion is seeking contrast, and the more pronounced it is the nearer it approaches the present ideal.

A NEW FEATURE.

In coat styles we find the masculine tendency in the broadening of the shoulder and in the treatment of cuffs and revers. In these features many details have been borrowed from men's attire.

Mundare News

Rapid and Steady Progress in the Midst of a Splendid Farming Country

Mundare, Sept. 22.—Mundare still continues to grow with a persistence and energy that augurs well for the ultimate success of this hustling town.
Mundare is one of the newest town-sites on the Canadian Northern and its phenomenal growth in the last two months clearly proves that it has the natural resources necessary to the permanent and substantial growth of any town. The new towns which are springing from the open prairie, all over the country must depend entirely upon the surrounding agricultural country for their support and few towns have tributaries to them as large an area or as many people as Mundare. About sixty miles of well-built Government road lead to Mundare from north and south.

This road pays as fine a grain growing and stock district as there is in the country, which for years has been thickly settled with a thrifty and prosperous class of people. Prior to the building of the Canadian Northern Railway these settlers were in the neighborhood of a hundred miles from the nearest railway point, and they therefore more fully appreciate this road and the substantial town which is growing up at its terminus.

The latest acquisition to Mundare is an elevator, the lumber of which was shipped from Edmonton a few days ago.
This elevator will be completed in place of time to handle this year's immense crop. Threshing is finished in many localities, and the results show a good average yield.

John Letowski, the Massey-Harris agent, is building an addition to his implement warehouse. Eight carloads of implements were deposited at this point this season.

Milne Bros hardware merchants, have just received new and better letters, is printed in large, box car letters.
"All Roads Lead to Mundare." This is certainly very appropriate. This anticipating firm has had painted exactly this, which will be placed consecutively at every mile from Bea-able in 20 equal instalments of principal and interest.

May 1906; 1907—$9,900—5 per cent payable in 20 equal annual instalments of interest and principal.

Sept. 1st, 1904—$20,000—5 per cent payable in 20 equal annual instalments
of principal and interest.

June 1st, 1906—$88,000—4-1/2 per cent payable in 50 equal annual instalments
of principal and interest.

All matured instalments have been paid.
A new electric lighting system is being installed at a cost of $35,000 and a water works system at a cost of $48,000 and sewers at an estimated cost of $55,000 of which $16,000 is chargeable to the municipality at large and the balance to property benefited. Of this $38,000 debentures have been sold.
The balance is not offered for sale at the present time.

GRAIN CONJUNCTION AT SASKATOON (Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 19.—Considerable alarm has been caused in this district by an order received at the local offices of the C.P.R.

"Accept no orders for grain cars until further advised."
The conjunct condition on Monday increased in their alarming indications and rumors were circulated about the city that the grain would be tied up for 30 days to allow the C.P.R. to carry the rolling stock from the road, and compel the C.N.R. to take it over at once.

Farmers came up to the city with large loads of grain, but were refused storage as the capacity of the most of the elevators was taxed to its utmost; in consequence they had to return to their farms, of which some were over 40 miles away without unloading.

A NEW ALBERTA TOWN.

The latest addition to the towns of Alberta is called Exshaw. The town has been established by the Western Canada Cement Co. and is located on the main line of the C. P. R. just where it enters the mountains at a point about 60 miles west of Calgary. Here was found a ledge of lime rock that after exhaustive tests was found to be fitted for the manufacture of a superior quality of Portland cement, with the further advantages of proximity to inexhaust-ible supplies of coal and shale, which are also used in large quantities in the production of cement.

The works when finished will represent an investment of $1, 000,000, which will give an idea of the magnitude of the undertaking. The buildings will be constructed throughout of cement with steel trusses carrying iron roofs, so that there is no repetition of the serious disaster that overtook the Calgary plant at the commencement of its operations. The buildings are in the form of a Y, the two branches being used for the reception of the coal and shale on one branch and of lime on the other.

LABOR MEN DISCUSS PLAT- FORM.

Victoria, Sept. 22.—The advisability or otherwise of taking political action is being largely discussed at the trades congress this year. The socialists want the congress to endorse their platform. Now the Victoria trades and labor council wish to form a Canadian labor party with a combined national, provincial and municipal platform.

The platform is as follows:—
1—Adult suffrage.
2—Old age pensions.
3—Conciliation and arbitration acts.

4—Chinese exclusion by a pro-5—Government owned railroad, and the application of a strict educational test on the lines of the Natal act, to all Asiatics and aliens. ways, telegraphs, telephones, waterworks and lighting.

6—Government fire and life insurance.
7—Factories act limiting the hours of labor, ensuring sanitary conditions and securing a weekly half holiday.

8—Gradual reduction of all indirect taxation and a corresponding increase in taxation on land values independent of improvements.

9—A tax on all incomes of $1,000 a year.

10—Compulsory acquisition of properties.

11—Direct legislation, the initiative and referendum.
The Dominion government is also to be urged to amend the laws relating to congress, to provide for the appointment in each province of labor commissioners to prosecute for all breaches of the labor laws, and also to act as government labor agents.

In direct contrast to the foregoing, there was a further resolution by James Simpson, vice-president of the congress, who, whilst affirming the individual right of the wage-earners to organize themselves into a socialist or an independent labor party, declares it to be the best policy for the congress to continue as a legislative body, looking to the two bodies to promote such legislation —Speaking today Mr. W. J.

Rutter, of the Fort Saskatchewan Reporter, said the Fort was making satisfactory progress. The new electric light system has been in operation over a month and there are now about 400 lights in use. Four are lights have been put in on the streets and clusters of incandescents will be placed at corners throughout the town. The rates charged are all night lights, $1.10; commercial, 95c; residence, 65c. A new solid brick fire hall on a stone foundation has also been erected.

—Mr. and Mrs. Holland Ross and their son have returned from an extended trip in British Columbia, having visited the Kootenai country and the coast. Mrs.
Ross and her son went to Nelson in July, where Mr. Ross joined them and proceeded on their extended tour. After having seen the country on the other side of the slope Mr. Ross is more convinced than ever that Edmonton is the place.

—Boulanger & Lanck announce that they will have the Cecil Hotel open for business by the 1st of October. As the house nears completion it is assuming a very handsome appearance and promises to be one of the most luxurious and comfortable caravansaries in the country. The furniture is of the finest, a harmonious mission style throughout. The house will have tri-ty-five rooms, all large and well lighted, with a bath and a telephone for every room, which will connect with the city system. Everything in the house is on the modern plan and the proprietors are looking forward to a reunitive trade.

—Victoria Times:—Kansas City, although a mere municipal infant, has a population of more than a million and a half. There are now quite a number of cities on this continent in the million class. It will not be a very great number of years until America will be able to boast of more and larger cities than Europe. An interesting question at this juncture is: Which of Canadian cities shall be the first to boast of a population of a million? Will it be Montreal or Toronto or Winnipeg? It is understood that the Prairie Capital is quite confident upon the subject, while Calgary and Edmonton are beginning to take notice of the situation and to anticipate great futures for themselves. Then there is Vancouver —is there not room for an ambitious city on the Pacific coast?
